Reconviction

State the total number of persons reconvicted during the half-year. If, in any case, section 75, Indian Penal Code, or section 565, Code of Criminal Procedure, was not applied, when the Superintendent of Police considered that either section should have been applied, the name of the trying Magistrate should be given stating whether he was empowered to pass orders under section 565, Code of Criminal Procedure, and if not, whether application was made for transfer of the case to the file of a competent Magistrate. Reference should also be made to cases which should, in the Superintendent of Police's opinion, have been committed to Sessions under section 348, Code of Criminal Procedure.

Statement of Serious Riot Cases

General remarks on the figures of rioting and brief particulars of serious riots giving the date of occurrence, final report and the result of the judicial proceedings, if any, the reasons why preventive action previous to the riots was not taken by the Police should be stated, and whether previous warning was sent to the persons on whose behalf the riot was committed and, if not, why not. Also state if professional lathials were employed. Reference may also be made here to the extent to which preventive action is being taken under sections 107 and 145, Code of Criminal Procedure in disturbed areas and whether section 106 of that Code has also been resorted to.
